That sounds good to me! Keep me posted if something changes on your end is well.

Have a good weekend!

How about I plan on being there at 10:00, which means I'll leave here around 9:30. And if anything changes first thing in the morning, just give me a call (my cell phone is fine - [REDACTED]) and I'll adjust what I do accordingly. Thanks.

Hi Sonja,

I believe that this trial is the oldest on the list, so it would be the first to go. I'd say 10:00 would be a reasonable time to appear, but how much lead time would you need? I could have someone contact you when it is definitely going, as long as you are not too far away and will be available immediately by phone...Whichever you prefer is fine with me...If you prefer to be on call, just give me the best phone number to reach you immediately, so I can have someone get in touch.

Thanks!

Kristin

Kristin-

Thanks for the heads up. I'm not sure if where this case is on the trial list, so are you going to want me there by 8:30-9:00 (or some other time), or would you rather have me on call? Also, a Superior Court ADA in Springfield emailed me a couple of days ago saying that she might have a case starting today in which she would need me, and that she would keep me posted, but I haven't heard anything yet. If it started today, I know I wouldn't be needed until Monday or Tuesday, but I'll let her know about your case and I'm sure she'll try to work around it. Thanks again.

Hi Sonja,
I hope all is well. I just wanted to get in touch about this case, which is scheduled for jury trial in Belchertown (Eastern Hampshire District Court) on Monday, January 30, 2012. I just spoke to the defense attorney, who indicated that it will likely be a jury trial. I figured that I would give you a heads up, given that it is likely to be a trial.
Thanks, and please don't hesitate to call me with any questions!
Kristin
